Mr. D. L. Stevenson, representative of the Richmond Guano Co., has a page in this issue of the News and Herald in which he reproduces a large number of letters from representative farmers of this county in which they set forth the merits of the goods of Mr. Stevenson's house and the courteous manner in which they have been treated by this firm. Mr. Stevenson covers a large territory but he is always anxious and ready to give his personal attention to the wants of his home people, consequently he has built up a large trade in the county. You would do well to read what these gentlemen say and then consult Mr. Stevenson before buying your guano for this year.

Mr. J. P. Caldwell Returns to Winnsboro.

Mr. J. P. Caldwell has given up his mercantile business in Greenville and returned to make his home in Winnsboro and conduct his farming interests here. Mr. Caldwell's health has suffered from the confinement of an office. Citizens like Mr. Caldwell are greatly missed in any community, and we are glad to get him home again, and hope that he may have a very speedy return to good health.

Social News.

Miss Helen McDonald entertained the Thursday afternoon bridge club and several other friends at a pretty bridge party on last Thursday afternoon. The tables were placed in the attractive sitting room where a dainty breath of spring, issuing from the bowls of jonquills, met the guests at the door. Merriment and excitement over the games ran high, and it was not until late afternoon that the cards were laid aside, and the tables then being laid with snowy covers, the hostess served a delicious sweet course with coffee.

The February meeting of the Thomas Woodward chapter D. A. R. was held on Monday afternoon with Mrs. R. V. Woodward. Affairs in this hospitable home are always delightful, and this meeting of this chapter was an unusually enjoyable occasion.

The Regent, Miss Alice Walker, presided. The program was a brief one, as there was a large amount of business to be disposed of. Among other things the delegate and alternates for the Convention in Washington in April were elected as follows: Miss Alice Walker, delegate, with Misses Sue Doty and Beck Lyles, Mesdames F. M. Gadsden, Hamby and K. R. McMaster as alternates.

Late in the afternoon the hostess served a tempting salad course.

COURT GENERAL SESSIONS CONVENED MONDAY

The Court of General Sessions began its February term here on Monday morning. Judge I. W. Bowman of Orangeburg is presiding. Solicitor Wade Hampton Cobb of the Fifth District is taking the place of Solicitor Henry, who is occupied with court duties in Charleston. Stenographer Harry McCaw is in his accustomed place. The cases disposed of up until today have been, in the most part, minor ones. The verdicts rendered have been as follows:

The State vs. Wash Pearson, stealing live stock, not guilty.

The State vs. Howard and Lorena Faison, assault and battery with intent to kill, not guilty.

The State vs. Ned Gunthrop, plead guilty, sentenced to pay $50 fine and serve 7 months, 7 months being suspended during good behavior.

The State vs. Henry Crosby, plead guilty to housebreaking and larceny, sentenced to serve 7 months.

The State vs. James Douglas, plead guilty to housebreaking and larceny.

The State vs. Melvin Phillips, plead guilty to housebreaking and larceny.

The State vs. Reuben Brannham, not guilty.

The State vs. Isaiah Buckson, violating the emigrant law, not guilty.

The State vs. A. M. Jackson, obtaining goods falsely, guilty, sentenced to pay $50 and serve 5 months.

The State vs. John Brice, murder, not guilty.

The case of James Moore, indicted for burning the Weir gin and barn is now in the hands of the jury.

Report of Grand Jury.

To His Honor, I. W. Bowman, Presiding Judge.

We have passed upon all matters submitted to us by the court, and appointed a committee to inspect the jail and poor house and the chain gang. A committee will be appointed to make such examination as may be determined necessary of the public offices of the county, and this work will be attended to at some later date.

The jail is reported in good condition by our committee except some windows need new glasses in the rear of the building and we recommend that this matter be attended to without unnecessary delay by the proper officials. We also recommend a new cooking stove for the jail.

Our committee found the buildings at the county poor house in bad condition, and we recommend that new buildings suitable for the purpose be built. All of these buildings except one are in good condition. The inmates, however, seem to be comfortably cared for except in the dwellings provided. We find that there are five inmates, one white and four colored; one hundred bushels of corn; two thousand bundles of fodder; four hogs, ten pigs; twenty three bales of cotton; two mules, in good condition; one wagon, in bad condition; thirty bushels of sweet potatoes. We recommend that food products only be raised on the poor house farm for the maintenance of the inmates of the poor house and chaingang instead of growing cotton.

An inspection was made of a section of the chaingang, now working about one mile from Winnsboro, and we found five tents, eight mules, one two-horse wagon, one one-horse wagon, twapael cages, two hogs, one scer and one road plow. The live stock is in good condition and so are the tents. The inmates are well fed and in good health.

We desire to extend to your Honor a welcome at this the first term at which your Honor has presided over this court, and to express our thanks for your very clear and explicit charge and instructing us so fully as to our duties. And we also extend our thanks to all of the court officials for their courtesies.

Respectfully submitted, W. A. Beaty, Foreman.

LEXINGTON MAN AIDING FRIENDS IN FINE WAY

R. M. Caughman, Prominent Citizen, Possesses Spirit of Helpfulness.

He is Doing Much to Make Town Happy--Investigation Proves Value of His Work.

The spirit of helping others is abroad in the land, and this part of the world surely must be growing better and healthier. A Lexington man desires to help some unfortunate brother or sister. He has already shown a number of people in Lexington how to better the state of their health, by taking Tanlac, as investigation proved. Still, he wants to continue this good work. That is the reason he gave the interview published below.

"This man, who may be described as a humanitarian, is R. H. Caughman, of Lexington, S. C. one of the well known citizens of that town, who is related to many prominent citizens of his and Richland county.

I had stomach trouble and indigestion for a considerable number of months, and could hardly eat anything without suffering keenly soon afterwards," said Mr. Caughman, as the interview began. "I had intestinal troubles, also. My appetite failed, and my system began to show the strain it was under. I took a lot of medicine, but it gave me no permanent relief," he continued.

"I heard so much about Tanlac that I decided to give it a trial. The first few doses made a difference in my condition. I improved rapidly, and about the time my first bottle was taken, I was troubled no longer with indigestion and its kindred ills. I can eat anything I care to now. I have a great appetite. Pork chops, cabbage, and other heavy foods do not cause me pain. It was about two months ago that I stopped taking Tanlac, and I now have no symptoms of my former trouble.

"I can heartily recommend Tanlac. I have told dozens about it, and those I have heard from say they have helped. Tanlac is the best medicine I have ever taken. It is worth bragging on."

Tanlac, the master medicine, is sold exclusively by Obeur Drug Co., Winnsboro; Ridgeway Drug Co., Ridgeway; T. A. Ladd, Dawkins; W. H. Suber, Peak; S. F. Castles, Rockton. Price $1.00 per bottle straight. Advt.
